VENDING

The interactive displays of the World Trade Display, respond in an ideal manner even for the vending machine industry so-called Vending; in fact, they are designed with special technical specifications, including resistance to vandalism, water infiltration and possible inflicted damage by the user. The quality of the products used, also satisfies the special requests of remote-control systems directly with the display.

BEAUTY & HEALTCARE

We regularly collaborate with systems integrators in both the aesthetic and paramedical industry. New technologies and new industrial product lines are constantly getting smaller, they are excellent options for companies that distribute aesthetic beauty machines for technicians or in the paramedical environment, making these increasingly reliable on digital medical imaging, more efficient and trustworthy.
